

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

Any showers will die out during Saturday evening, with temperatures falling below freezing across much of the area, allowing a frost and some icy patches to develop. Outbreaks of rain will spread eastwards later in the night and during Sunday morning, with some of this rain possibly falling onto surfaces that will still be below freezing, thus increasing the risk of ice for a few hours.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 18:00 on Sat, 16th Dec 2017 until 10:30 on Sun, 17th Dec 2017

Icy patches will be a hazard on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths. Some injuries are possible from slips and falls on icy surfaces.
